Walker, the Fillibuster. The Buffalor Express, from information received from a gentleman who has recently returned from Nicaragua, gives a different account of Gen. Walker from the one generally entertained of him. We extract the following, which is of interest just now, when, by the defeat of a detachment of his army, Walker seems to be at the

risis of his fate:
Gen, Walker is represented to us as being only crisis of his fate: Gen. Walker is represented to us as being only some thirty-three years of age—of small atature—of exceedingly modest and unassuming deportment. Possessing a frank, generous but decided ast of countenance. In speech he is a man of few words, and those are always to the purpose. Is possessed of indomitable energy and inflexible courage. Is highly educated—was born in Tennesses of wealthy parentage and graduated at College with scholastic honors. He is accomplished in the Italian, Spanish and French languages. Has studied Divisity and Law. Has travelled in Europe, and made the tour, to a great extent, on foot, as a matter of choice. Has been an editor in New Orleans and San Francisco, and a practising lawrer with a good practice, at Marysville, Californis. It is now nearly a year since he invaded Central America, and his cause New Albany and Salem Kall Koad, by Introduction of the man the index of success, if he is not overpower by the index of the same and substantial between the substantial betwe we can read in the character and attributes of the man the index of success, if he is not over-powered by the interference of an English force. Of the merit of his cause we do not propose now to speak. His avowed purpose is to establish Constitutional liberty for the government of the people whose country he has invaded, and as that is the destiny of all nations and all people on the habitable globe under the clearly defined de-crees of Providence, we have little doubt of his ultimate success.

REFORMATION OF INDIAND IN TEXAS.—Major Neighbors, the Texas Indian Agent, informs the Austin State Gazette that the Indians of Texas on the Reserve, are for the first time taking hold of farming, with a determination to depend entirely upon it for their support. They are putting their hands to the plow handles themselves, and though it requires two to perform the operation—one to lead the horses; and the other to plow—still they have made a heginning, and will soon become expert at it. Even the Southern Camanches have taken hold of the hoe, and are wielding it patiently. The excellent moral effects of this move are witnessed in the absence of their and pillage on the part of the lones of horses or cattle; and some time ago, when Skillman was killed by the Northern Camanches, the Indians on the Reserve, to the number of a hundred, immediately volunteered their services to pursue the murderers and arrest them. Some dozen were accepted, and they overtook the houtile Indians. A hattle ensued, and the result was that they raterly routed the enemy, and brought back eight scalps. There are some 1200 or 1500 Indians on the Reserve, and many tribes in other States would willingly join them if they had the privilege; but it is not our policy to increase the Indians of Texas.

Erie and Norra-East Rathroap.—Pennsyl-

ERIR AND NORTH-EAST RATLEGAD.—Pennsylvania legislation "beats the Dutch." Last year Eric influence so provailed as to accure the repeal of the charter of the Eric and North-East Railroad Company, and a forfeiture of the road to the State. The present legislature is disposed to repair; the wrong done in some measure, and in spite of Eric indimence a bill has passed the Senate by a vote of yeas 18, nays 14, to restore the Charter of the Eric and North-East Railroad Company. A motion to strike out the subscription of Charter of the Brie and North-East Railroad Company. A motion to strike out the subscription of $400,000 to the stock of the Erie and Pirtsburgh Railroads, and requiring the payment of the same to the State Treasury, was lost, yeas 1s, nays 1s.

The Eric Gazette is in tribulation at the passage of a bill in the Senate, and attributes the result "mainly to the exertlons of the borers congregated at Harrisburgh, in the interest of the Lake Shote Railroads, who have thus far played their card," the Gazette says, "with consumnate tact and advoitness." The Gazette, however relies on "the supposed prevalence of true Pennsylvania feeling" in the House to promptly reject the Senate "bill of abominations."

J. A. NOONAN, P. M. POLICE COURT, APRIL 23

BEFORE CLINTON WALWORTH, POLICE JUSTICS. John Hackett, for being drunk, was fined $1. Archi-bald McCanley, arrested fer disorderly conduct, was dis-charged for want of prosecution. John Griffin was tried for an assault and battery upon Abel Boughton, and acquitted. The complainant swere that the defendant or dered him out of his house, and while he, the complainant, was in the act of leaving, defendant struck him.-Three witnesses for the defense testified that complainant came to defendant's house drank, and was troublesome. Defendant ordered him to leave several times—he refused to go, when defendant pushed him, and he fell, injuring VIOLATION OF THE BRIDGE ORDINANCE,--J. C. Howard was tried yesterday for a wilful violation of the Bridge Ordinance, passed April 6th, 1854. The evidence of three witnesses showed that the defendant drove down East Water Street in a lumber wagon just at the time the they whiteled for the bridge to be opened. The bridge ten-der called to defendant to stop and defendant stopped, on the abutmont, and afterwards started his horses into a the abitment, and atterwards started his lorses into a blisk trot, determined to cross the bridge before it was opened. The tender was in the act of opening, the bridge when the defendant's tests was trotted up to the centre of the bridge. The bridge tender then took the horses by the the bridge. The bridge teneer then there have no see by the bits and backed them a few feet, and had to open the bridge with the team on the steing, to allow the ing to

THEATRE-YOUNG'S HALL .- Thorne's "Star Company" continues to attract very good houses, at Company communes to attract very good houses, at Young's Hall and its steadily winning its way in the public favor. The performance last night gave great satisfaction. Mr. Thouse, as Sergeant Australits, confirmed the high opinion entertained of his professional ments. In the Farce of "Who Espeats First," Mrs. and Miss Thouse, Mastares and Lieutonewalt, fairly divided the audience. sonors and convulsed the audience,

To-night, "Wildam Tell" and the "Two Gregories," will be played. The Manager certainly spaces no pains to deserve success and is on the high road to achieve it. Plant Trees! HARDWARE AND IRON

We mean you, reader, if you own a meant lot, or rent a house, or live in a house of your own. There is less of planting this Spring than we would like to see. A row of trees in front of a house will add, largely to the pleasure and comfort of its immates—a row in front of a vacant lot will add largely to its value for speculative purposes. Then, besides the additional physical comfort, and th increased money value, there will come real pleasure in various other ways. If you have rought out good, large, hashing trees,—say maples, clms, oak, linden, horsechesthealthy trees,—any maples, clms, oak, linden, horsechest-nut—and have set them out, laying the foundations broad and deep and strong, as he who expects to erect a large superstructure ought to do, it will be pleasant to watch the unfolding buds, the new branches, the full leaf, the forceasing and gratiful shade, and to remember that your hands have done it all. It will be gratifying to know that, in this every-day world, while almost everybody is whiring along the burse during way making habes to set which, and along the busy, dusty way, making haste to get rich, and even, perbaps, in the intervals of your own performances in that line, you have done something to make the work in that line, you have done something to make the world more beautiful and happy.

Finant rece, then! Let us see all of our residence streets bordered on both sides with green leaves. Set out good more of the "Genuine Salamanders" has ever been destroyed.

Protect them curefully from four-footed animals—and if two-footed animals will not learn better than to tie to them, give them a taste of Blackstone, the Revised Statutes, and city ordi-nances, well compounded. Why would it not be a good idea for some enterprising man, who understands the business, to make ready at once for setting out trees by whole-sale, making contracts with lot owners to set out good trees, protect them, take care of them through the season and warrant them? Who will do it?

SALE OF THE "EMPIRE MILLS."-The Empire Mills on the Water Power, owned by J. W. and M. B. Mills on the Water Power, owned by J. W. and M. B.
